CipherLab 8000 Series Mobile Computer Wins Network Products Guide 2009 Best Products and Services Award

CipherLab's Pocket-size Mobile Computer selected for the Mobile Solutions category

PLANO, TX — May 19, 2009 — CipherLab (www.cipherlab.com), a leading innovator in Automated Identification and Data Capture (AIDC) for the retail, warehouse and distribution markets, today announced that Networks Products Guide, an industry leading publication in information technologies and solutions, has selected the CipherLab 8000 Series Pocket-size Mobile Computer for the 2009 Best Products and Services Award in the Mobile Solutions category. This annual award recognizes products and services that represent the rapidly changing needs and interests of the end-users of technology worldwide, and consistently honors some of the world's most successful high-tech companies.

The CipherLab 8000 Mobile Computer delivers anywhere mobility in a ruggedized, ergonomic design, offering speedy barcode scanning and data entry via multiple wireless communication options. With a pocket-size form factor that exceeds industry drop standards, the CipherLab 8000 offers 100 continuous hours of battery life, long range radio communication of up to 1148 feet, and an easy-to-read backlit LCD screen for low light areas and the lowest possible power consumption. Its easy-to-use interface minimizes training requirements and supports a variety of software solutions. All these industry-leading features boost the efficiency of workers on the go in retail, healthcare and logistics settings.

“Increased end-user awareness and ongoing advances in technology are helping shape better products and services,” says Rake Narang, editor in chief, Network Products Guide. “The CipherLab 8000 Series brings impressive improvements in the mobile solutions market by unteathering workers with its long-range communications, extended battery life and durability.”

“We are honored to receive this award because it recognizes the value the CipherLab 8000 Series delivers with its anywhere mobility solutions,” said CipherLab vice president of technology Al Crawford. “CipherLab is committed to meeting its customers’ needs by providing them with the best products and services.”
